

The ALC was set to midscale on the LCD analog meter. Power Out was read on the LCD analog meter. Clever: adjusting the power level does not affect the level of ALC. Very little difference between the two.

